

BENDANA

A small supply for all kinds of emergencies

Bendana is an elastic bandage designed to completely cover dressings during the post-operative period. It protects the surgical area while allowing the animal absolute freedom of movement, guaranteeing hygiene in the home and in the kennel. Bendana is protection equipped with ties to adjust tightness and length to fit pets of any size and shape. It's easy to use and remove, including during examinations. The protection is made of natural jersey ($\geq 90\%$ cotton and 5-10% elastane), it's soft and breathable. Bendana was originally intended to be disposable, but can also be washed and sterilized. It protects the surgical area and is a significant indicator of convalescence.
